MRS. HENRY LITCHFIELD WEST

5505 WORTHINGTON DRIVE FRIENDSHIP STATION, D. C.

Aug. 1 - 1939

Dear Mrs. Chapman:

You have probably thought that I had "passed out of the picture." Far from it. I went to New York, with the intention of spending a few days at the Fair. One day almost finished me, so we stayed in the hotel for the next day, then went to Orangeburg, N.Y., to visit our daughter, and have just got back.

I have not had time to thoroughly go over the data you have sent. So far, there is nothing to prove that he was my ancestor, but I am quite sure he was.

The man of whom I wrote is Thomas Webb Scott. If you should contact him, for the love of Mike, do let him know that you have even heard of either Miss Holladay on me. He had a lawyer write him a letter telling him that unless he gave us proof of his statements regarding the name of Thomas Godwin's wife (Thomas I), and the names of the children of Bembridge Godwin, he must remove our names as his collaborators, from the chart sent out. He was furious. Mrs. Holland says there is no such book in the Va. State Library as he describes. I then went to the Congressional Library, saw the heads of the Rare Book Room, who assured me there was no genealogical book of that description there. They even asked for Mr. Scott's name and address, and went over the slips made out, requesting books, but there was nothing doing. There must be some foundation for the names of the children of Bembridge Godwin, somewhere, because old Miss Elizabeth Godwin, who lived with the Pinners, told me of Elizabeth Godwin, Burgh II, and Bembridge Godwin II. She was descended from Elizabeth Godwin VI. Yet, the line she gave was from James Godwin, who wd. previous to 1734, Sarah Kitchon, dau. of William Kitchon. Miss Lizzie must have been born about 1823, as she was 80 when she sent me her line through Miss Primmer, and told me of those three children of Bainbridge Godwin. The way in which Mr. Scott places these children is: -

Edmund Godwin VIII, unmarried.

Almedia " , wd. Thos. Benton of D.C.

Willis " , b. 1774: wd. 1799, Sarah Craft: d. 1819.

Burgh II " II, unmarried.

Elizabeth " VI, wd. Kitchon Godwin.

Bainbridge " II, unmarried.

In 1903, Mr. Charles Godwin, Sr., of Chukotuk, told me that Bainbridge and Willio Godwin were living in 1776, and were cousins of Drillo Godwin I, b. 1760, who had son Drillo II. I think he was a little mixed about Willio.

I never thought of Willio Godwin being a shipper of tobacco, but think you are right;
because I never heard of him owning any large tract of land. Sarah Crafts probably owned the house they lived in, as I am quite sure her father was rather well-to-do. There were only two children: 1. Sarah Crafts, b. June 27-1781; d. 1865; m. Aug. 29-1799. 2. Mary Crafts,
m. Samuel Cuthrell of Portsmouth. Sarah Crafts was a "bossey" old lady. She lived with my grandmother until her death. I do not remember her at all. I was born in 1861, and she died 1865.

I will study this data carefully, and return it as soon as possible. You have done a wonderful piece of work.

Sincerely yours,

Mary Hope Nutt

Oct. 3, 1939

Dear Mrs. Chapman:

Miss Holladay has seen the data. She says they show that that Bembridge is eliminated as my ancestor. She also says that he had one child, only, a daughter. I am sorry she did not tell me that before. I knew that old Miss Lizzie Godwin said so, but she was so mixed, I did not put much stock in what she said. At the time, Miss Holladay did not say Miss Lizzie was right. As Miss Holladay has it, Bembridge's daughter married Wright Godwin, and their son Kitchon Godwin, was Miss Lizzie's father. On Miss Lizzie's other side, she was descended from James Godwin and Sarah Kitchon, and had Kitchon Godwin 1st, as her great-grandfather. She thinks, as I do, that there was a close connection between Kitchon and Bembridge.

Godwin. Now, she thinks Miss Godwin might have been from Joseph Godwin, brother to Ben-bridge. The Joseph she refers to, had a son Joseph, and grandson Elisha. I have forgotten the date of his will. Anyway, she writes, "Notice how the Burgh and Benbridge names came down in Elisha's children." I don't see a thing about Elisha's children.
I have been through these notes over and over. I'll go over them again, although I have written her to know when she saw that. I don't care who was the father of Miss, so long as I get him.

Sincerely,

Mary Hope Nash

My dear Mrs. Chapman,

I have been so much interested in your wonderful work in collecting the marriage data of Isle of Wight & making it accessible to those interested.

I would like to ask you to correct one or two items should you ever revise & publish your book.

I note that "1770 - you have Brewer Godwin - Fulgham, sister Charles Fulgham -"

I think that this is a mistake but I do not say so positively - because you doubtless are more familiar with the records than I am - but they were searched some years ago by a genealogist & I find from her notes that Brewer Godwin married Hannah sister of Gen. John Scarborough Wills. This older Brewer Godwin was the son of Edmund and Ann Brewer Godwin. Edmund's will is in Isle of Wight dated 1760 & probated a year or two later.

I think the error came in here when Ann & Chas Fulgham deeded land to Brewer Godwin - in 1674 - 1764
This land the deeds states was land purchased from Anthony Coventry Halladay

An earlier deed (the date is missing) conveys land from Anthony C. Halladay to Thomas Brewer. The land abutting on the land of Edmund Godwin, Mary Pitt, Henry Pitt and William Wilkinson.

Brewer Godwin's wife Hannah survived him & is mentioned in the will, of her son Josiah Godwin of Isle of Wight, dated 1805.

There are other records to show that Edmund Godwin's widow married Chas. Fulgham.

The other item - is the statement that 1748 - John Pitt - Godwin sister of Thomas Godwin. The will of John Pitt mentions brother-in-law Thomas Godwin but it was John Pitt's sister Mary that married Col. Thomas Godwin of Cherry Grove - my great, great, grandfather. Family Bible &c. - to show this.

I have understood that Henry Pitt (Mary's father) sold land that he had in right of his wife who had it from her father William West.

I have an abstract of a deed from John Marshall the elder to William West for land.

If I am incorrect in any of my statements I hope you will pardon it as I have not examined these records personally.

Do you think that it would be possible to find out who the three Richard Wilkin-son married? The first one patented land now Battery Park in 1666 1674. His sons will is dated 1415 - he left an only son & several daughters. The son Richard III - is still dated 1741 & his only son died before his father.

I do not know whether you feel that all the marriages that it is possible to get have been given or whether the field is still open.

I should like sometime to have the records searched if there is any possibility of finding the Wilkinson marriages as they are my ancestors.

Hoping that you will pardon my long letter
& not look upon it as impertinent -

I remain Very truly yours -

Gilda Dr. Halladay
